TWO-YEAR-OLDS THAT HAVE SHOWN WELL AT BENNINGS.

Borses Trained by Garth Should Be-Coupled, Say Turfmen-Reasons Why Present Betting System on New York Tracks should Not Be Changed-Entries.

This is the last week of Bennings. Next nday Aqueduct opens and the Metropolitan racing season will be launched to continue November 15. The sport at Bennings as been only fair, as far as class goes, but a speculative standpoint the public as enjoyed unusual prosperity. The layers, most cases lost extensively and the on for their discomfiture is ascribed to fact that the conditions of the races have iced a minimum of contenders. But th the opening of the campaign at Aqueduct is believed that the game will not be so easy, inasmuch as the flelos will be larger some of the best horses in training will sent to the barrier. The two-year-olds shown so far at Bennings have been above average. In fact races in which twoolds have taken part have been the features of the Washington meeting. Littlefield appears to have the best gster in Jubilee, a colt by Compute, is yet to be defeated. The Columbia le's Ben Cole, a gelding by Shapfel on Rose, is also entitled to recognition tory in the Dinner Stakes, after running ad heat with Billie Hibbs, who was disfied, being a noteworthy performance. added considerable to his reputation aturday when he galloped of with the ton Nursery Stakes.

F. R. Hitchock's Woodcraft, a gelding by Cotagon— wood Nymph, is well thought of, but has been defeated in all his races, though finishing inside the money in each instance. Ivan s Gun Cotton, by St. Maxim-Cotton meen, is another fair sort of a filly who is expected to improve. W. Stockton has a promising gelding in Trey of Spades, by l'atheriess-Vigalet, while A. D. Parr's d'es, also sired by Fatherless, has done good while A. D. Parr's Others that have attracted atten tion and financial support are Mrs. R. Madden's Servile, a gelding by Plaudit-Salama, and Becken, a fillly by Plaudit-Semaphore. All youngsters will race on the local tracks and are worth remembering, although of them will probably be outclassed the colts and fillies who are receiving special eparation on the Long Island tracks. As was generally predicted William Garth ads the successful trainers at Bennings in the number of winners sent to the post. He has a big stable and has been able to show o advantage because of the fact that his orses were made ready in advance of other strings. Garth for that matter, saddled more winners last year than any other trainer the American turf, but most of them ran n the smaller tracks under the control of the Jockey Club. In handling so large a number of horses running in different interests Garth has caused much discussion over the old point of whether horses trained y him should be coupled in the betting or not. On several occasions he has had three epresentatives in a single race, but the layers ave not seen fit to couple them in the prices. fault has been found with the running Garth's horses, but at the same time many rimen believe that, coming as they do out the same stable, they should be coupled s if they belonged to the same owner. Garth. has turned out winners, for T. F. Coles, Woods arth, W. T. Townes, C. C. Hall and others ave scored notably, and their friends, too, been able to clean up handsomely. Walter Miller, after a week's suspension for foul riding in the Dinner Stakes, will be nek in the saddle to-day. With the exeption of Radtke, Miller has not had much opposition in the struggle for leading riding onors. But later on, when boys like Garner, icol, L. Williams, C. Ross, Knapp and others ges here, he may not have it all his own way. hadtke, it seems, has been in rather poor health lately, and on Friday last after being feated on several favorites he was comselled to cancel other engagements and go bed, suffering, it is said, from a severe hous attack. Mountain, a very good rider, has been secured to ride all August Bel-'s horses this year, as the chairman of he Jockey Club believes he is the best boy vailable. Mountain is not a spring chicken any means for he has had wide experience the West and has an exclient record. le is alert at the post, possesses a cool, level ead and can put up the most vigorous kind a finish. Little Joe Johnson and young dstein, the latter a coming star, have attracted a great deal of attention at Bennings. ckey, has established the fact that he can with extreme clevernes. McDaniel, after a good season at Los Angeles, appears to be better than ever before. In a word, here seems to be a wealth of good riding naterial which will have a chance to develop during the coming season.

There was a rumor current last week that when Aqueduct opens the walk around system of bookmaking would be installed in the place of the usual betting ring with the stools. intes and other paraphernalia. It was said that the Aqueduct management had decided ipon this move for the reason that it was believed the system would be compulsory in the course of time. When one of the attorneys or the Jockey Club was asked about the mater on Saturday he said:

"It is all news to me. It is true that the was talked of last year, but I have not heard it mentioned since. I think it would be entirely uncalled for to introduce the walk around system here, because, as a matter of fact, if that kind of betting comes within the requirements of the law there is no reason thy the present arrangement with stools and slates cannot go on. The Court of Appeals has decided that the method of making and accepting wagers on the New York tracks is legal, and that ought to settle it. It is strictly a matter of transactions between individuals, and unless the present law is re-pealed speculation cannot be interfered with." As a matter of fact the walk around system as practised at Washington is regarded as a failure. It is both inconvenient and tireome. Furthermore it serves to make specuonspicuous in the extreme, something hat the Jockey Club has always tried to eradicate. If this arrangement should be ntroduced on the New York tracks chaos rould reign and scandal would predominate. here would be frequent instances of welchng, while the track managers would be in onstant turmoil with the public. Under he present arrangement in the betting ring the public receives ample protection, while the Usiness is always conducted in the most orlerly manner. That is why turfmen say that That the Jockey Club is thinking of reforms. wever, can be accepted as a fact. Those who hold the reins of turf government believe that racing can be further guarded against the attacks of reformers. It has been suggosted by several radical persons who have interest of the sport at heart that the eld" should be entirely done away with. would eliminate from turf speculation the persons who cannot afford to bet. While a cta-ing of the "field" would be a blow to the es, the advocates of the measure declare would do away with cheap book making racetrack patronage to a minimum, but so far there has been much opposition. These reforms may never be instituted, but at the same time it can be said that they have been discussed in Jockey Club circles at considera

Only four stakes will be run at Bennings this week. The Amateur cup, a highweight selling stake for gentlemen riders, will be run on Thursday, while on Saturday the Jesse Brown cup for two-year-olds, the Second Bennings Spring Handicap and the Spring Hunters' Steeplechase are on the cards. Fo the Jesse Brown cup the best eligibles are Billie Hibbs, Jubilee, Giles, Trey of Spades, Merrimac, Laudable and Glorious Betsy. The probable starters in the Bennings Handicap are Okenite, Malacca, Right and True, Rose of Dawn, Graziallo, Warning, Orphan I.ad, Toddles, Slickaway, Lord Boanerges, Jack McKeon, Cederstrome, Tickle, Gold Sifter, Marster, Workmaid, Toscan and The Clown. A fair card is offered for Bennings to-day, the feature being a handicap at seven and a half furlongs, with Oxford, Ormonde's Right and Heaslip the best. In the first race, for platers, at seven furlongs, Wabash Queen, Jack McKeon and Venus look good. Two-year-olds will run in the second race, four furlongs, with Gossoon, Awless and Beckon figuring well. In the third event, at six fur longs, Anna May, Workmaid and Golf Ball may run well. In the fourth race, for/fillies and mares, five furlongs, Anna Smith, Cousin Kate and Diamond Flush seem formidable. Platers will run in the fifth face at a mile, with Turbulence, Delpline and Cobmesa worthy of support. The entries follow:

TRAP SHOOTING.

Wykagyl Country Club Defeats Fox Hills Golf Club in Dual Match.

An interclub match of 100 targets between the Fox Hills Golf Club and the Wykagyl Country Club was the feature of the latter's weekly shoot on Saturday at New Rochelle. It was a very interesting race, and for a while it looked as if the golfers would lower the unbeaten colors of the Wykagyls, but the home shooters did well in the last batches of twenty-five and won out, but by the narrow margin of seven targets.

Besides this the Wykagyls had a programme of nine events confined to themselves, the first being the shootoff for the March cup. Five men-Pelham, Calhoun, Henderson, Howard and Scoble-were tied, and Pelham was the victor. W. N. Bannon made two wins, one of them the club championship, which was a twenty-five target scratch race. Ogden was a dual winner, and Pelham also captured two, besides the cup shootoff.

BEALS WRIGHT IMPROVES.

American Lawn Tennis Player Shows Good Form in Match on Cannes Courts.

Beals C. Wright, the former American champion lawn tennis player, now is in London on his way back to the United States. Wright took part in the tournament at Cannes on the Beau Site courts. He withdrew in the first round of the singles, but he and his brother, Irving C. Wright, as partners in the doubles got through to the final round in which they met A. F. Wilding and M. J. G. Ritchie and were beaten in a four set match. According to what can be gleaned from foreign accounts of his play at Cannes Wright had improved over his previous form and may yet be able to uphold the credit of this country in the Davis trophy matches.

In the singles both the brothers Wright scratched and the final was a competition between M. J. G. Ritchie and D. P. Rhodes, an American player, in which Ritchie won handily. He scored 6-4, 6-2 in the first an American player, in which Ritchie won handily. He scored 6-4, 6-2 in the first two sets and then Rhodes retired. The sensation of the singles play was the manner in which Ritchie defeated A. F. Wilding in the third round. The British player, who has shown a great game this season, had the Australian in difficulties and won by 2-6, 6-4, 6-2. The first set was the only one in which the Antipodean gave the English player much of a struggle. It was the first time in two seasons that Ritchie has scored over Wilding, who beat the Englishman ten times last year.

Beals Wright and Miss Lowther got to the semi-finals in mixed doubles but were beaten by H. L. Doherty and the Countess Schulenberg, who won the final round from A. F. Wilding and Miss Fastlake Smith.

Of the men's doubles the London Field says: "Messrs. Wilding and Ritchie retained possession of the gentlemen's doubles cups they won last year. In the semi-final the pair easily disposed of Messrs. Lowe and Rhodes and in the final won a subtantial although not altogether a conclusive victory over the brothers Wright. Messrs. Powell and Wallis Meyers, as at Nice, had all but beaten the Americans, but Beals Wright was in much finer fettle in the final and had he been supported by a partner of his own calibre must inevitably have triumphed. Irving Wright was too slow, too indecisive and not sufficiently accurate for a high class contest of this nature, keenly as he fought throughout."

GEORGE GOULD DROPS POLO.

Disposing of His Ponies at Private Sale -Will Guit Game for a Year. LAKEWOOD, N. J., April 7 .- George J. Gould is disposing of his stable of polo ponies at private sale and is withdrawing from the game temporarily. For a year at least there will be no polo games at Georgian Court.

will be no polo games at Georgian Court.

Mr. Gould has by no means lost his interest in the sport. He is every bit as enthusiastic over polo now as he was when he organized the Lakewood Polo Club and promoted several championship tournaments here.

Mr. Gould's vast railroad enterprises have kept him so busy that he has spent but very little time at Georgian Court this winter. His sons, Kingdon and Jay, have been too busy with their studies to give much time to polo. Both the Gould boys developed great skill as polo players. They have played the game ever since they were able to wield a mailet.

EASTERN CHAMPIONSHIP COURSE TO BE SELECTED.

Americans Who Are to Compete for British Title at Dollymount Will Be Named -Metropolitan Association Fixtures -Princeton and Yale Dates-Notes

To-day the Women's Eastern Golf Association will meet in annual session, and besides electing officers for the year the course will be selected for the championship and the matches for the Griscom interdity cup. Last season the Boston women gave up their turn on the intercity matches to aid the success the first women's Eastern championship at Nassau and it seemed then to be understood that a Massachusetts links would have the two events this time. But as a fact the selection may not be forecasted, for the Philadelphia women hold the cup and may wish the distinction of defending it on one their own courses. The players of the three cities will attend the meeting and the

To-morrow Mrs. N. Pendleton Rogers will preside at the executive committee meeting of the Women's Metropolitan Golf Association. It is already settled to hold the championship meeting at the Knollwood Country Club the same week as the Men's Metropolitan at Nassau. The women will announce their programme and also the details of their interdistrict team contests. Incidentally the two meetings will make public the American women who are to compete for the British title at Dollymount next May.

Walter J. Travis, as secretary of the Garden City Golf Club, has sent out the programme of the first tournament of the M. G. A. season, on April 18, 19 and 20. The event precedes the Lakewood tournament by one week, and from the outside interest in the changes at Garden City it is a sure thing that every player invited will be on hand. "There were some sixty starters last spring at Garden City, just before work had been started on the new hazards and undulating greens. It will be interesting to compare the scores of this year's tournament, now that scientific golf prevails at Garden City. The college boys at their tournament last fall had gales and storms as accompaniments, so that the scoring did not really figure. This time the cracks will have an opportunity to testthe course and to display their skill at both medal and match play

New Haven, April 7.—The Yale golf team that won the championship in the intercollegiate tournament last fall at Garden City will play again this spring. These men, making in the present university team, are as follows Clow, Jr., '07, captain; Eaton, '07; Abbott, '08; Knowles, '08; Howland, '08; Partridge, '08; Borup, '07, substitute. It has been decded to organize regular class teams this year, each team to consist of six men. All men in the university are eligible for these teams. The following men have been appointed captains of their respective classes: W. B. Clow, Jr., '07; Ellis Knowles, '08; Dwight Partridge, '06; Albert Swords, '10; W. W. Stanley, '07; W. I. Howland, '08; S. R. Nevins, Jr., '09. When all these interclass matches have been played the two teams having the highest averages will play for the championship. The university golf schedule has been revised and several new matches added. The most important innovation this year is the meet with Princeton, which will be held at Princeton.

The revised schedule is as follows:

Devotees of the sport in the Old World wound up the season with the international championship at Glasgow. England, France, Ireland, Scotland and Wales were represented by teams. The course was ten miles and from the form displayed during the season the team and individual honors were a foregone conclusion for England. But the feature of the event, however, was the defeat of George Pearce of the Highgate Harriers, the latter almost an unknown man. Underwood, who ran in rubber soled shoes, came away in rare shape in the last half mile and won by 150 yards. Ragueneau, the French champion, was a disappointment, as he only finished eleventh, but it seems the journey was a little too far for him. For the team stitle England made a total of 23 points and Scotland was second with $5 points. Ireland and France tied for third and fourth at 123 points and the total for Wales was 219 points.

The senior championship of the Irish Cross-Country Association took place this year at Elm Park on the outskirts of Dublin over a course of eight miles. The team honors were captured by the Haddington Harriers, a club with a record of many years devotion to the hill and dale sport. T. J. Downing, who is the Gaelic champion, was the individual winner, and his time was 51 minutes 50 seconds. But the sentation of the race was the running of J. Smith of the Donore Harriers. He is not yet 16 years of age, and only a bit of a chap, yet he ploughed throuh the heavy course and came home second, his time bing 52 minutes 7 seconds. It is thought he has the making of the best distance man Ireland has seen since Conneff.

TERRY M'GOVERN IMPROVES. Simple Life Seems to Agree With Popular Fighter.

STAMFORD, Conn., April 7.- The simple life seems to be doing Terry McGovern a lot of good. In the two days he has been out of the sanitarium his physical appearance has improved a good deal. He has passed his time walking, sleeping and eating. Barney Flanagan, the stalwart attendant he had at the sanitarium, is his constant companion and regulates Terry's conduct. Joe Humphreys has secured a nice octtage for McGovern. It is on Washington avenue, a nice residential section, and Terry and his wife and son will be in it in a few days. Mrs. McGovern expects to leave for New York to-night to get furniture for the cottage. She will bring back Terry's mother and his son. AMERICANS START NORTH. Griffith's Men Play at Lynchburg To-day -Pitchers in Form.

SENECA, S. C., April 7 .- After five weeks of good hard training the New York Americans broke camp this afternoon and departed for Lynchburg, where they open to-morrow. The start for the North will be welcomed by the players as the daily grind at morning become monotonous.

No word has been heard from Elberfeld regarding his condition, but he has wired that he will join his team at Baltimore on Tuesday. Some anxiety was felt by Griffith a week ago regarding the makeup of his team for the opening game at Washington on Thursday, but now that Hal Chase has given his assurance that he will be there when the bell rings Griffith's mind has been relieved of a great burden.

The pitching department caused Griffith the most concern when he came South. He had six youngsters whom he had to break in and try to develop, and of the six, two—Keefe and Doyle—have shown up exceptionally well. regarding his condition, but he has wired ally well.

Orth, Hogg and Griffith are in the best of Orth, Hogg and Griffith are in the best of form. Hogg has greatly improved in his pitching and is destined to become one of the stars of the American League. Brockett is another pitcher of whom Griffith expects much. He is one of the best fielding twirlers who has broken into big company in many a year and besides he is a cracking good hitter.

Pitcher Brady of the University of Pennsylvania team made an exceptional record last Saturday. He struck out fourteen men, including every one of the opposing Georgetown team.

Grover Cleveland and his son Richard saw the game between Princeton and Georgetown last Saturday. The ex-President thoroughly enjoys the national sport, which same is to his credit.

Billy Lush, the Yale coach, who nearly lost his eyesight in Washington by being struck by a thrown stone, is now on the mend, and expects to rejoin the Yale squad this week.

Tommy Corcoran fitted in as smoothly at second Tommers than Magee and Thus.

Tommer Corcoran fitted in as smoothly at second base in the game against the Elis as if he had played there all his life. His judgment in playing for the batters was noticeably good, reminding one of Jimmy Wil iams, Bid McPhee and Fred Pfeffer. Jimmy Wil iams, Bid McPhee and Fred Pfeffer.

As between the major and minor leagues, opportunities are not all on one side. Not only do the major leagues offer chances for men of the minor leagues, but the minors frequently present openings for major league players to make a good livelihood, Among noted former noted big league performers filling managerial berths in the minor leagues are Jesse Burkett, Joe Kelley, Jack Doyle, Ducky Holmes, Jack Dunn, Park Wilson, Malachi Kittredge and Hugh Duffy.

"CANADIAN CLUB" WHISKY GUARANTEE

With the object of injuring the sale of "CANADIAN CLUB" WHISKY, certain persons are stating that it is not guaranteed under the Food and Drugs Act.

SUCH A STATEMENT IS ESSENTIALLY MISLEADING, BECAUSE THE GUARANTEE REFERRED TO IS IN NO SENSE WHATEVER A GUARANTEE TO THE PUBLIC THAT THE GOODS ARE ACCORDING

THE ACT provides simply that DEALERS shall not be prosecuted for selling Unlawful Goods, if such goods are guaranteed by Residents of the United States from whom purchased, but that the Guarantors shall then be "amenable to the prosecutions, fines and other penalties" under the ACT.

IF THE GUARANTEE WERE A PROOF THAT THE GOODS ARE ACCORDING TO LAW, NO PERSON COULD POSSIBLY BE LIABLE TO PROSECUTION, FINES AND PENALTIES.

Not being residents of the United States, it is clearly out of our power to give this particular guarantee to Dealers; but we have already undertaken, and we hereby again undertake, to hold every dealer absolutely harmless in the sale of "CANADIAN CLUB."

The object of the FOOD AND DRUGS ACT is to suppress impurity and misrepresentation.

Inasmuch as "CANADIAN CLUB" is a pure whisky, labelled with absolute truthfulness, bearing the Canadian Government guarantee as to age, there is nothing about it to suppress.

SPECIAL CAUTION.

Some Dealers are calling what is only a MANUFACTURER'S GUARANTEE a GOVERNMENT GUARANTEE, which is itself a very serious misrepresentation and a violation of the Law.

PERSONS MAKING MALICIOUS MISSTATEMENTS REGARDING OUR WHISKY WILL BE RIGOROUSLY PROSECUTED. FRIENDS OF OUR BRAND WILL OBLIGE US GREATLY BY REPORTING ANY-THING OF THE KIND WHICH COMES TO THEIR NOTICE.

Oarsmen Out in Training Spins for Coming Regattas.

There was a raw pip in the air along the Harlem River yesterday and it prevented a few of the more timorous from indulging in the weekly spin. But those who are really bent on work were out and paid little heed to the biting breeze. Coach Johnny Smith of the Nassaus gave all his men an airing and he was so satisfied with their work that he will make final selections for the eight in a week

Corbett and Emerson have begun to shape themselves for the intermediate doubles and the "Mets" expect to mould a good junior four out of Hartenstein, Berger, Frankenstein and McEntee.

The gross exaggeration of the size of baseball crowds already has started in. The national game draws well enough without infiating attendances. There junior eights are promised for Decoration Day. The latter club has good strong men, who with pienty of careful coaching should develop into a good crew. The principal activity around $he Harlem Rowing Club is centred in the schoolboys who work on the rowing machines. Capt. Jack Nagle is working hard on the boys and he has quite a job to make anything out of such raw material. Three schools are quartered at the Harlem. The New York A. C. it is said, will rig two schools with shells and oars. Later Capt. Nagle intends to muster an intermediate octopede and a senior four. The Amateur Rowing Association of England has notified the British Olympic Council that it will need only sixteen medals for the regatta which will be held in connection with the Olympic games. Only firsts will be given in each event, which will be singles, pairs, fours and eights.

TED VICTOR OVER KINGMOND. Nathan Straus Scores With His Trotter in Two Out of Three Brushes.

Weather conditions were not favorable esterday morning to bring out a big crowd to Speedway Park. The wind was raw and chilled the most enthusiastic admirers of the sport. The programme was not a lengthy one, but it was keen and full of quality. The Speedway queen, Ida Highwood, 10014, and her owner, Nathan Straus, were on hand early fit and ready. Much to the regret of the crowd there was nothing present in the class with the fleet daughter of Highwood, 2:211/2. Mr. Straus gave his favorite a nice warming spin and then turned her over to the trainer and took the reins behind Ted, 2:15%. 'Claus Bohling, driving the trotter Kingmond, 2.09, had been awaiting the change and the two trotters were at once driven to the starting post for a test of speed. When Kingmond was a Grand Circuit star it was rarely he was not in the lead at the half mile pole. With all his old time speed yesterday morning he was unable to outbrush Ted in getting away. mile post in the first heat Ted had an assured lead and he maintained this to the finish.

Kingmond tipped over soon after getting away in the second start, and each owner took his horse in hand and jogged back for another start. This time the two horses had a spirited contest down almost to the end of the stone wall. Here Kingmond lost his balance, and he was taken in hand, Ted winning easily.

end of the stone wall. Here Kingmond lost his balance, and he was taken in hand, Ted winning easily.

This virtually settled the contest, but each owner wanted to please the crowd and the two horses were taken back for a third heat. Both were full of trot, but Kingmond seemed to warm to the work even better than before and in a dingdong finish he won.

It is not often that W. J. Kenny and his good trotter Bonny Betsey, 2:20½, meet defeat. Yesterday was an exception to the rule, and J. W. Gibbons with Bessie G. put Bonny Betsey in second place twice. There was a different story to tell when Mr. Gibbons and his favorite met Lewis W. Boynton behind the bay trotter Crimson Clover, 2:16½, It was give and take for every foot of the journey twice over the course, with Crimson Clover in front each time at the finish. George H. Huber and Gracie Pandit, 2:25½, proved a hard pair to beat. The fleet daughter of Pandit was as fast and steady as an old campaigner and she put Disturber in second place without bringing her owner to a drive.

INTERNATIONAL FOOTBALL. Scotland Wins the Rugby Crown-Wales Leads in the Soccer Game.

Scotland and England played the last international Rugby match of the season at Blackheath, and it was the best and most Blackheath, and it was the best and most stubbornly contested game of the season, Scotland winning by a score of 8 points to 3. The English fifteen made a splendid fight against the Scots and kept their lines intact until the second half was well advanced, and it was only then that Scotland made the first try. Soon after the Scots made a goal, their last score of the day. Almost in the last second of the game Peters, for England, registered a grand try, and it was the first time in the international matches that Scotland's line was crossed.
